The thanks of the State are due the editors who have so kindly supplied our Library with their papers, and of the Librarian for the promptness with which they have forwarded missing numbers when requested to do so.

All papers that come to the Library regularly are neatly and substantially bound, and will prove exceedingly valuable for future reference.

We regret that a few have seen fit to discontinue sending their papers, and have thereby broken our files, which are complete for a number of years back.
